The University of Maine School of Law provides an outstanding legal education that is accessible, affordable, and student-focused. As the state’s public and only law school, it is a vital resource for addressing the needs of Maine people and communities. Its unique position means that Maine Law faculty have close connections with the Maine bench and bar, serving on judicial commissions and working with statewide bar associations. Maine’s top attorneys serve on Maine Law advisory boards and strongly support its clinics and outreach work.

Maine Law graduates go on to become judges, elected officials, lawyers in a wide range of practices, CEOs, advocates, authors, entrepreneurs, and civic leaders. Over 67% of Law School alumni reside in the state while nearly 80% remain in New England. Five Maine governors, including the current office holder, are graduates of the University of Maine Law School and our graduates are represented at all levels of judicial leadership in Maine. The programs and initiatives developed for the students of Maine Law have a long-lasting resonance across all sectors of the state.
MEETING THE NEEDS OF THE REGION AND STATE:

- Cumberland Legal Aid Clinic provides free legal aid to more than 600 low-income individuals and families every year.

- Refugee and Human Rights Clinic offers legal representation and advocacy to immigrants and refugees seeking political asylum.

- Rural Lawyers Project places Maine Law students in rural practices in underserved regions of the state as part of a highly successful workforce development initiative.

- Access to clinical and externship opportunities provide students with one of the best experiential learning experiences in the country.

- Fast-track 3+3 B.A. / J.D. programs with UMS schools, UNE, Saint Joseph’s College, and Husson University.

- Dual degree programs with Business (MBA) and Policy (MPH and MPPM).

- Certificate programs in high-demand legal fields of Information Privacy and Regulatory Compliance and Environmental and Oceans Law.